FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ERC DATAPLUS ANNOUNCES NEW VP OF CLIENT SERVICES

Norwalk, CT. --- (November 14, 2006) -- ERC Dataplus, a leading human resource technology company, today announced that Marie Avren will be joining ERC as Vice President-Client Services.

Ms. Avren will be responsible for the Client Support organization and for ERC's Project Management Institute-based project management planning. Her team of project managers and client support specialists support ERC's client base by providing training and consultation on making the most effective use of ERC's portfolio of products and services. This team is also responsible for interfacing with all new clients on the implementation and deployment of each of ERC's services to ensure they deliver the expected Return On Investment.

"I'm pleased to welcome Marie to ERC as a member of the senior management team," said Paul Rathblott, ERC Dataplus CEO. Marie's experience and background includes teaching Statistics, Organizational Psychology, Consultation, and Program Evaluation at several universities, and serving as a Project Manager in the Yale University Organizational Development and Learning Center where she assisted in the development of Yale's training management system and training of system users. Her additional experience includes project management, program development, and training with User Technology Corporation and managing her own consulting practice. Marie holds an M.A. in Industrial Organizational Psychology, and a B.S. in Accounting.
